

WVLC Library Development

The Library Commission's Library Development Division stands ready to assist you with any issue your library might face. This is a general guide to who to call on various issues, but it is by no means all inclusive.

If you have a question regarding any issue which you do not see posted here, please call Library Development and we will refer you to the proper source. The number is (304) 558-3978. In state you can call toll-free at 1-800-642-9021, option #2.

Position Open	Library Administration and Management, Personnel, Space Planning, Construction, WV Code Chapter 10 and the Administrative Rule, Trustee Development, general management questions, continuing education planning and approval, bookmobiles and extension services, collection development, writing policies and procedures
Susan Hayden	Adult Programs, Center for the Book initiatives, professional networking, special projects and partnerships related to adult services, WVInfoDepot adult databases, Job and Career Accelerator, Learn-A-Test, Newspaper Archive, collection development for adults, book discussion group program
Suzy McGinley	Children's and Teen programs, working with schools, WV Children's Choice Book Awards, WVInfoDepot children's databases, Grolier databases, collection development for children and teens, customer service
Susan Hoskins	Public Library Survey/Bibliostat, keeping statistics, compliance with state rules and regulations, board minutes, digital literacy, broadband adoption, long-range strategic planning, community assessment, writing policies and procedures, serials, development of partnerships and initiatives supporting digital services
Preston Richardson	Public relations, communications, writing press releases, dealing with the media, website content, marketing, Geek-The-Library
Robert Gibson	Continuing education credit recording, book discussion group bookings, other items not listed here